The New Black Death.

[From the London Chronicle.]

It appears, then, that a strange and terribly fatal disease exists in Ireland, and as yet chiefly in Dublin. The general features of the preliminary stage are billious vomiting and sometimes purging, and usually headache of unparalleled intensity, with incoherency. Then comes the purple eruption, accompanied in most cases, by great debility, and followad by collapse and death. The duration of the illness is of a three-fold variety. In the first, where the period is reckoned by hours, one case was fatal in four hours from the occurrence of the fifth symptom; but the average is eighteen hours. The second variety includes from three to six days from the first indications of indisposition to the fatal issue. The third variety, in which alone any recoveries have taken place, embraces a period extending to many days, and even weeks. It is hardly necessary to say that in Dublin great interest is felt upon the subject among the members of the medical profession, and considerable anxiety has been awakened among the general public. Already the Medical Association of the city has held two meetings, in one of which detailed and authentic reports of the case observed were presented and read, while the other was devoted to a discussion of the character of the disease. It is not unnatural that upon the latter point medical opinion should be divided. Some consider it to belong to the family of blood-poisons, of which in these countries typhus and typhoid fevers have hitherto been the chief specimens; and they refer as proofs to the purple eruption and the rapid development. Others consider that it is a new form of cerebro-spinal malady, appealing to the headace and injected character of the spots, and to the appearances usually presented by the brain and spinal column in post-mortem examinations. They also cite, in confirmation of this view, the morbid sensibility of the surface, the dilation of the pupil and the temporary loss of vision, the twitchings of the muscles and convulsive spasms, the muscular rigidity and curvature of the spine which often accompany the disease, and the displacement of the head, paralysis, and other affections which frequently retard the very few cases of recovery. Others, again, suggest that two distinct types of disease exist in these cases, and by their commingled symptoms give occasion to confusion of diagnosis and pathology. All important as the decision of these matters must be, the time has hardly come when it can be given upon the safe basis of a sufficiently extensive and searching induction. In the meantime it is fortunately too clear, with the steady and rapid increase in the Dublin death-rate from this mysterious complaint, that its attacks deserve the closest and most watchful attention, not only from the medical profession, which is thoroughly off the alert, but also from the public and the government.

GROWING.—An interesting physiological incident comes to our notice about a beautiful young married woman, who is very strongly afflicted with a mania for imitating the crowing of the morning cock, while in a state of somnolence. We are assured that at the hour appointed by Nature for chanticleers to frighten away the midnight prowlers, that then the wildest and most awful crowing can can be heard, astonishing the night air, and also those who wander forth to inhale its benefits and scare away the midnight prowlers from yawning graveyards. The fortunate husband of the crowing wife, on the first night of his marriage, was aroused from his slumbers by a most lusty crowing. On opening his eyes, what was his astonishment to behold his better-half seated in the middle of the connubial couch of conjugal bliss, flapping her wings, and crowing in a most loud and clear voice, stretching out her neck after the most approved rooster fashion. Thrice did she thus "herald in the morn," and then sank back and slept on. In the morning he spoke to her about it, and was not more surprised to learn that she knew nothing about the matter. He spoke to her on the subject most seriously, but she seemed entirely ignorant of that to which he was referring. He was finally amused to learn that she had been born in the country, and that a favorite Shanghai, which roosted with his feathered family in the hen-coop near the window of the maternal bed-chamber, frightened her mother by his loud crowing, and thus the child was "marked." And ever since—yes, even when a babe lying in the cradle, she has been wont to wake the echoes of the coming morn by imitating "ye rooster,"—and, still, each morn she "flaps her wings and crows." As the business of the husband requires him to rise very early, he is rather pleased than otherwise to find his wife possessed of this additional accomplishment, which dispenses with the necessity for an alarm clock, though having heard his grandmother say that the "crowing of a hen indicated ill luck, unless her head was immediately cut off," he is in some doubt, whether, in order to insure good fortune to his household, he is in duty bound to stop his wife's crowing by severing her musical throat. We advise him to let his "hen" crow on, so long as she does not "peck" him. Some persons may question the truth of this remarkable incident; but we can assure such that it is true in every particular, and can be vouched for by responsible parties, who have known the lady from infancy; and the moral of it is, that ladies who do not desire "crowing children," should not sleep too near the hen-coop.—Exchange.

THACKERAY ON ENGLISHMEN.—How they hate us, these foreigners, in Belgium as in France. What lies they tell of us, how gladly they would see us humiliated! Honest folks at home over their port wine say: "Ay, ay (and very good reason they have too), national vanity, sir, wounded—we have beaten them so often." My dear sir, there is not a greater error in the world than this. They hate you because you are stupid, hard to please, and intolerably insolent and air-giving. I walked with an Englishman yesterday, who asked the way to a street, of which he pronounced the name very badly, to a little Flemish boy; the Flemish boy did not answer, and there was my Englishman quite in a rage, shrieking in the childs ear as if he must answer. he seemed to think that it was the duty of "the snob," as he called him, to obey the gentleman.

This is why we are hated—for pride. In our free country a tradesman, a lacquey, or a waiter will submit to any given insult from a gentleman; in these benighted lands one man is as good as another; and pray God it may soon be so with us! Of all European people, which is the nation that has the most haughtiness, the strongest prejudices, the greatest reserve, the greatest dullness? I say an Englishman of the genteel classes. An honest groom jokes and hobs-and-nobs and makes his way with the kitchen maids, for there is good social nature in the man, his master dare not unbend. Look at him how he scowls at you on your entering an innroom; think how you scowl yourself to meet his scowl. To-day as we were walking and staring about the place, a worthy old gentleman in a carriage, seeing a pair of strangers, took off his hat and bowed very gravely with his old powdered head out of the window; I am sorry to say that our first impulse was to burst out laughing—it seemed so supremely ridiculous that a stranger should notice and welcome another.

As for the notion that foreigners hate us because we have beaten them so often, my dear sir this is the greatest error in the world; well educated Frenchmen do not believe we have beaten them. A man was once ready to call me out in Paris because I said we had beaten the French at Spain; and here before me is a French paper, with a London correspondent discouraging about Louis Bonaparte and his jackass expedition to Boulogne. "He was received at Englington, it is true," says the correspondent, "but what do you think was the reason? Because the English nobility were anxious to revenge upon his person (with some coups de lance) the checks which the 'grand homme' his uncle had inflicted on us in Spain."—Early and Late Papers.

NOT SATISFIED WITH PROTECTION.—There is a good deal of human nature in the protectionists; they like butter so well that they must spread their bread on both sides. Thus the Chicago Tribune says:

"The Hon. Oakes Ames, of Massachusetts, is a high-minded man He makes shovels for the American and Austrian markets. He finds the tariff on steel pinching him, and he, too, wants a bounty to enable him to furnish cheap shovels to the Austrians. Mr. Ames in 'protected' in the American market by a duty of forty-five per cent, on his shovels. The proof that he does not need such protection is found in the fact that he exports shovels to foreign countries in competition with English manufactures. Nevertheless his export trade is declining, and he is threatened with extinction, by reason of the high tariff on steel. He proposes, therefore, to get a law passed to to compel those who buy his shovels in this country at forty-five per cent. more than they are worth, to pay the sum of forty-five per cent. additional, so that he may furnish shovels to the Austrians at forty-five per cent less than they cost the American farmer. The professional name of this bounty is 'drawback.' The word bounty does not sound well. If the reader will bear in mind that a drawback means a sum of money taken out of the treasury, which has to be made good by taxes from some other source, it will aid in forming correct conclusions as to how far drawbacks should be allowed."

This, remarks the New York Post, is simply a contrivance to make American farmers and workingmen buy the shovels they need at about twice the price they might buy them for without such iniquitous interference.

THE EFFECTS OF EXTREME HIGH PRICES.—The depression now prevailing in all departments of trade, may be ascribed to the prevalence of high prices. People expect while our currency is kept debased, and gold demands a premium of 30 to 40 per cent., to see all commodities so much higher in proportion to the depression of the circulating medium, but we have no right to expect a constant continuance of prices more than twice as high, as when gold was at par. We now are seeing the effects of these long continued high prices, in a general depression of all branches of business. High prices of labor have ruined our mining interest, our ship building and many branches of manufactures; high prices for land, building materials and labor, have stopped all building for several years, thus causing rents to be enormously high; high prices at hotels and watering-places will soon nearly stop all the travel; high prices for vessels, outfits and wages have thrown our once enormous carrying trade almost entirely into the hands of foreign shipping houses.

High prices for all articles of American produce, such as provisions, breadstuffs, fruits, tobacco and lumber, have stopped nearly all exports of these articles to foreign markets, for now nearly every nation on earth can undersell us, and drive us out of the markets that we have held and enjoyed for years. These are only a few of the bad results of our inflated prices. And who are the gainers in the end? Many that thought they were great gainers in 1864, will find before the end of 1868 that they were loosers instead; the great manufacturing interests of New England will find that the enormous profits of the war and the one or two years succeeding, will be greatly cut down by the losses sure to take place between now and 1870.—Boston Traveler.

THE dairymen of California are making extensive preparations to send a large stock of butter to the Northern States. This indicates a larger stock of cattle on dairy farms, and more attention to the dairy than we were prepared for, although aware of the rapid agricultural development of the State. The total milch cows, returned by the census of 1860 were 905,409; the pounds of butter manufactured at 3,-806,036. Pennsylvania then made 58,653,511 pounds, and only New York made so much by more than 10,000 pounds. Seven States made less than California does now. She has begun the business within the last two years. One firm, in Marian county, have 17 dairies, milking 2,000 cows, which are grazed on 57,000 acres. They employ 200 men in herding the cattle and making the butter. There are other large dairies in other counties, making about 5,000 firkins per month in the season. One firm has a building in San Francisco expressly adapted to its business and keeps thirty coopers making firkins. Ten schooners are exclusively employed in bringing butter and cheese to the city, while other large quantities are brought by coasting vessels and steamers. The butter consumption is estimated at 3,000 firkins per month, and the production at 5,000; so that the Californians are casting about to see whither they shall export their surplus in 1869.—G. H. News.

NEW IDEA IN BANKING.—Hitherto the banking-houses of this city have refused to receive on general deposit any sort of money except gold coin, and silver in sums of five dollars or less. The Bank of California has broken through this old regulation, and now receives deposits of United States currency and National Bank bills, as also silver in an amount, and will pay drafts drawn against currencies thus deposited.—[San Francisco Call.

IT appears from official documents that in 1864 there were in France in every 10,000 marriages no fewer than 167 between relatives. The proportion has been constantly increasing since 1861, when it was only 129 in 10,000.

How the Money is Made.

Laying all joke aside and viewing the matter in a worldly light, with the aid of sober, serious reason, we unhesitatingly pronounce Brigham Young's connection with the Mormon Church a financial success. Viewed in the same light as the speculations of Stewart, and Vanderbilt, and Astor, and all other great financiers, Young, with the means at his command, has shown no mean financial ability. Less than forty years ago, according to his auto-biography, he was engaged in the humble and honorable calling of a glazier and house painter. Some who claim an early and intimate acquaintance with him, declare that he executed very indifferent jobs in the line of his trade, and as a consequence he didn't have lots to do, and didn't have plenty of money at all times. When he joined the Mormon Church luck changed with him, and by devoting close attention to money matters he is now in his ripe old age, far removed from the gaunt and frightful spectre, 'want.' It has been said that within the past few years he maintained the standing of third highest depositor in the Bank of England; and that funds to large amounts are on deposit in Washington City, New York and St. Louis to his credit. However, all this may be mere report. We don't know nor care whether it is true or not. But as a matter of opinion, we "shrewdly" suspect that there is something of it. There is always some fire where there is a great deal of smoke. But if he has not one cent abroad, out of Utah, he has plenty of all that goes to make up wealth, here. He has mills of different kinds, to saw lumber, make flour, manufacture cotton and woollen goods; he has stores and dwellings in great numbers, that must yield a vast revenue in rents alone; he has farms and ranches all over the Territory that are of immense value; he owns the Theatre, which seems to pay him very well, as he keeps it occupied and agoing, for one purpose and another, nearly all the time; he is said to own a distillery and liquor store, that somebody is running for him; or perhaps leased from him. It is also pretty certain that he is, or was quite recently, heavily interested in other money making enterprises; and had a great amount of Union Pacific Railroad Stock and Union Telegraph Stock in his own name and right. He also has fine turn-outs," and several of them. Take him for what is "in sight" here in Zion, in wordly goods he can discount a regiment of the wealthiest divines in America. If it is true that he has sent away several hundred old stocking's full of yellow boys, why he is able to rank with the few wealthy ones in the East.

When it is considered that he had nothing to commence on, and is now as rich as Crœsus, it is no more than justice to concede that he possesses extraordinary financial abilities; and knows how to make one dollar make two. If he succeeds as well in the next ten years as he has done in the past—and we don't know but he will—Astor and Stewart must look to their laurels. He didn't do well in the painting and glazier business; but he has made all the money he needs in "religion."

American settlers are flowing into the colony by a line of steamers now running between Belize and New Orleans. They bring along with them their wives and families and implements of agriculture.

It is rumored that Gov. Austin is to be succeeded by Col. Grant, late of India.

Postal communication between Jamaica and Honduras is now via New Orleans. The Belize government having subsidized a monthly line of steamers between that port and New Orleans, the mail steamer Venice no longer runs between Havana and Belize.

The Indians who were condemned to death for the murder of residents at Indian Church, have not yet been executed, as grave doubts exists as to their guilt. The probability is now that they will not be executed.

A schooner laden with merchandise, the property of Messrs. William Guild & Co., had been illegally seized by a Mexican schooner-of-war, and taken into the harbor of Havana as a Mexican (Imperial) prize. The British Consul interfered, it was said, and the Spanish authorities ordered both vessels out of Spanish waters. There was no British man-of-war in the port of Havana at the time, otherwise the matter would have been more easily and satisfactorily settled.

BARBADOES.

A project is on foot to establish a steamer line between West Indian ports and New York. The Agricultural Reporter has the following in that connection: A large public meeting was held on the 23d of May in Bridge Town to consider certain proposals to establine of steamers between the West Indies and the United Strtes. Mr. Delemar, the traveling agent of the New York Company, being present, addressed the meeting; he wished for this company, exemption from port dues, and to secure a subsidy towards the expense of this line. The United States had promised $25,000 per annum.

HAYTI.

The election of a President under the new Constitution of Hayti took place on the 4th of June, when Gen. Salnave was unanimously elected President of the Republic for the term of four years, to terminate in May 1871. This, says the Kingston Gleaner, is one of the reforms introduced into the constitution; which, it is hoped, may have the effect of preventing much of the abuses that have been complained of in successive administrations since the declaration of Haytien Independence. The country at last accounts was tranquil.

ST. THOMAS.

A correspondent at this island informs the Gleaner that intelligence had been received there that Mr. Doolittle, United States Senator, has been appointed special agent to proceed to Denmark to treat for the purchase of the island.

The American bark Patmos put into St. Thomas in distress, on her voyage from New York to Callao, with a cargo principally of guns and ammunition for the Peruvian government. This created quite a sensation among the Spaniards, and two men-of-war were sent on from Havana to watch her movements. She discharged her cargo and was waiting advices from New York and completing her repairs.

TABLE OF DISTANCES.—We have received from the Directors of the Pacific Railroad Company, a table of distances from San Francisco via Goat Island, Livermore's Pass, Stockton, Sacramento, Cisco, etc, to New York. As that company now own the Western Pacific Railroad, we infer that this table, which is made up in the office at Sacramento, is an official intimation that they propose to connect the Central Pacific with San Francisco by the Western Pacific, via Goat Island instead of San Jose. The distances from San Francisco to Sacramento are thus given: To Goat Island, 1½ miles; thence to Oakland, 4½ miles; thence to San Leandro, 8 miles; to Hayward's, 5 miles; to Vallejo's mill, 8 miles; to Kottinger's, 10 miles; to Livermore's Pass, 12 miles; to San Joaquin river, 20 miles; to Stockton, 10 miles; to Woodbridge, 13 miles; to Cosumnes river, 14 miles; to Sacramento, 18 miles. Total, 124 miles. From San Francisco to Stockton, 79 miles; from Stockton to Sacramento, 45 miles. The greatest elevation is Livermore's Pass, 734 feet. The elevation of Stockton above tide water is 22 feet; of Sacramento, 59 feet, Oakland, 23 feet. The distance from San Francisco to the crest of the Sierras, is 229 miles; to Oreana, Humboldt mines. Nevada, 382 miles; to Humboldt Wells, head waters of Humboldt river, 635 miles; to Weber Canon, nearest to Salt Lake City, 845 miles; to Julesburg, 1,473 miles; to Omaha, 1,846 miles; to Chicago, 2,340 miles; to New York, 3,300 miles. The greatest elevation on the Sierra Nevadas is 7,043 feet; of the Rocky Mountains, at Evan's Pass, 8,242 feet.

THE FUTURE OF OUR COUNTRY.—The exciting issues which have demanded the attention of the American people during the last two years have almost entirely diverted their attention from a contemplation of the probable effects of the triumph of the Union cause upon the destinies of Europe. Montalembert considers our success "the most important event of the present age, and one whose consequences are the most vital to the whole world," and he asserts that "the American federation is henceforth restored to the first rank among the great dowers of the world. In the future, all eyes will be turned towards her; all hearts will be agitated by the destiny which is reserved for her; all minds will be illuminated by the light of her future; for this future will be more or les ours [the future of France] and her destiny will, perhaps, decide ours."

KNOW THY DESTINY.

MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with the date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate or written guarantee that the picture is what it purports to be. By inclosing a small lock of hair and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and inclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. ☞ A YOUNG LADY returning to her country home, after a sojourn of a few months in the City, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a coarse, rustic, freckled face, she had a soft ruby complexion of almost marble smoothness, and instead of twenty-three she really appeared but eighteen. Upon inquiry as to the cause of so great a change, she plainly told them that she used the Circassian Balm, and considered it an invaluable acquisition to any Lady's toilet. By its use any Lady or Gentleman can improve their personal appearance an hundred fold. It is simple in its combination, as Nature herself is simple, yet unsurpassed in its efficacy in drawing impurities from, also healing, cleansing and beautifying the skin and complexion. By its direct action on the cuticule it draws from it all its impurities, kindly healing the same, and leaving the surface as Nature intended it should be, clear, soft, smooth and beautiful. UNEASY SITS THE HEAD THAT WEARS A CROWN.—Capt. Zabriskie will ultimately be saved, for remembering the editor of the VEDETTE. We sport a new chip chapeau through his kindness.

DON'T YOU SEE IT?—Sumner & Co. have determined to put themselves and their business before the public. Read their ad. and start for their Auction House.

RETURNED.—Dr. Bell, Surgeon and Physician, has returned from Ft. Bridger. He started out to the new mines on Sweetwater, but, as the Indians were full of fight, he went no further than Bridger.

MONTANA POST.—This enterprising and well conducted newspaper has been enlarged. It is one of the best of our exchanges; is edited with rare ability, and its mechanical appearance is neat. The Post is a staunch Union journal, and merits home support.

IF you want to secure great bargains in the shape of elegant coats, pants, vests, overshirts, &c., &c., some slightly and some badly damaged by water while in transit, hurry to the "Peoples Emporium," opposite Wells, Fargo & Co., as they must be closed out within a few days. 2t

SAN FRANCISCO MUSICAL TIMES.—This is the title of a new musical journal published monthly by J. T. Bowers at San Francisco. Mechanically it looks good. Of its musical merits we don't pit ourself as a critic, consequently won't venture an opinion. However, if the publisher thinks it has "charms to soothe" &c., he can send it along.

THE WEATHER.—For the past few days the heat has been oppressive. In the language of 'Ansome 'Ary from Lun'un its "blarsted 'ot." This all comes from allowing the mercury to mount too high in the little glass tubes. Yesterday it was discovered up to 98° in the shade. We advise all to keep cool, if they possibly can; to become frigid and frightful during the present month.

DRAMATIC CHRONICLE.—Now that all our California exchanges are running wild on politics and making journalism hideous, we feel a great relief when the Chronicle comes to hand; in fact it tones down our savage tendencies more than anything printed west of the base of Sherman's operations. We don't even except our saddle-colored cotemporary here; nor "ye" organ of the fierce "Democracie" of the North Countrie. It acts like a balance wheel in the Golden State and keeps journals revolving in their proper orbit. It is well written up, full of sarcasm and humor; and some of its trite sayings are remarkable for their pungency and scholarly diction.

NO MORE PUBLICITY.—The "wet nurse" says in yesterday's issue he won't publish "births" and "marriages" any longer—gratis. What else could be expected from an advocate of Polygamy? WE WILL publish such items with pleasure; and encourage them, too,—always providing they are legal; not otherwise. Any man who won't encourage these two requisites of society—marriages and births—as ordained by God and recognized by society, without demanding and receiving pay as he would for a horse race or a cock fight, won't do to bet on. We are astounded at our cotemporary! we are! Won't announce marriages and births any more without the cash! hey? Well! Well!! Well!!! Something is up, sure! A new revelation, perhaps! And the Telegraph-man is preparing to obey "counsel." We are disposed to ask one question—no more. Has this new "kink" in the Telegraph anything to do with the recent fulmination of "ye" head of the Church, that he, alone, is to do the marrying and divorcing of the Saints hereafter at TEN DOLLARS, each way; into the marriage state and out of it? The experiment is cheap at twenty dollars.

HOW MEXICAN WARRIORS RAISE MONEY.—The Rio Grande Courier gives currency to the following:

We learn the following additional of Marquez's doings in the capital: Soon after entering Mexico, when coming from Queretaro, Gen. Marquez imposed a prestamo of $80,000, committing several outrages. Mr. Benock, the Prussian Consul, was thrown in jail because he refused to pay his share of the prestamo. He then marched out to the relief of Puebla, was met and defeated by Guadarams, and retuned to Mexico with a few cavalry and no guns. He immediately imposed another prestamo of $1,900,000, and imprisoned the Prussian, French and Spanish Ministers and Charge d'Affaires for non-payment of their quotas. Mr. Dano, the French Minister, is married to Miss Benistequi; Marquez put another $80,000 loan on the lady and imprisoned the husband because it was not paid. In another instance a very heavy amount was required by Marquez as a loan, from one of the leading foreign houses; the payment having been refused, the merchant's wife and children were thrown into prison and kept there until payment was made. Another prestamo was made at San Luis Potosi, on the 27th ult., only for $80,000. A special tax of 1 per cent. has been imposed upon all capital in the republic. It is not stated how often it is to be paid.

Nervous people needn't be frightened out to visit to Lake George, among the Adirondacks, by the rattle snakes. The highest estimate only makes the number in that neighborhood seventy thousand.

A ferrymen, whilst plying over a river which was only slightly agitated, was asked by a timid lady in his boat, whether any persons were ever lost in that river. "Oh no," said he, "we always find 'em agin the next day."

THE average depth of the Atlantic ocean is estimated at 25,000 feet, and of the Pacific at 20,000 feet. The deepest water in the Atlantc is off the Island of St. Helena, which has been sounded 27,000 feet, or over five miles.

In Norway and Sweden there is reported to be a perfect maina on the subject of emigration. All who can gather together a sufficient sum to pay their passage to America make a start. They go chiefly to Minnesota and other parts of the Northwest.

Halab ab Nagar being asked what was the most excellent thing in man replied: "Sense." "But if he has none what is the best then?" "Honesty." "But if he has not that?" "The counsel of his friend," replied the doctor. "And in want of that?" "Taciturnity." "And if he cannot have these things?" "A sudden death as soon as possible."

A curiously-wrought water-jar and part of a human skeleton have been taken from an ancient grave about nine miles from Nashville. There are some hundreds of similar graves in the vicinity, of which the Indians informed the early settlers they knew nothing. The jar closely resembles similar utensils now used by the Indians of central America.

THE Methodists have decided on founding a college in connection with their missions in India. It is to be located in the city of Lucknow. It will receive the highest and brighter pupils from their mission schools, and take them through a regular collegiate course. In these different schools there are now about 3,000 pupils.

THE admirable article of Prof. Chas. H. Hitchcock of New York City, son of the late President Hitchcock of Amherst College, recently published in the Bibliotheca Sacra, upon "The Relations of Geology to Theology," has been printed in pamphlet at Andover, by Warren F. Draper. The author attempts to reconcile the admitted facts of geology with the Old Testament cosmogony, and by a free interpretation of the scripture text succeeds very well. He is even ready to concede that man existed on the earth many ages before the creation of Adam, as the account of that creation in Genesis is generally interpreted, but this not yet absolutely demonstrated, though very likely to be by further explorations. The assumption that the Mosaic seven days covers an indefinite and very extended period of time, however, affords an easy method of reconciling this, as well as the other, seeming discrepancies between the Jewish and geologic records. Prof. Hitchcocks article is valuable for its fulness of detail upon all matters discussed.—Ex.

ASTROLOGY.
THE WORLD ASTONISHED
AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS
MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,
Madame H. A. PERRIGGO.
She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness inclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, inclosing a small lock of hair. Address,
